

The Stuart McNair Band represents the best in Americana and beyond. A cast of Birmingham's finest and most versatile players, the band covers artists ranging from outlaw legends (Johnny Cash, Willie Nelson) to cultural icons (Dylan, Stevie Wonder) to regional favorites (Hank Sr., Bill Monroe). There is something for everyone here. The band delivers authentic Southern sounds from Memphis, Nashville, and New Orleans, plus the songs of Motown, the British Invasion, and more. Stuart can also perform as a solo act, in addition to acoustic duos and trios as well as four, five, and six-piece bands. The six-piece band consists of a wide variety of instruments for a fun and varied show - there is bass, drums, fiddle, mandolin, and banjo, plus Stuart plays guitars, accordion (for Cajun-style tunes), harmonicas, and trumpet. Stuart provides a complete sound system, and he comes with a lot of experience, too. The Stuart McNair Band delivers a diversity of music, making the experience enjoyable for audiences of all ages.
